Gardenville Bulb Growers

TACOMA, WASHINGTON

A portion of our planting of more than 100 acres of Daffodils.

Daffodil Classification

The following brief descriptions are given for those wishing to be more familiar with the different classes of Daffodils.

NARCISSUS is the family name and all types and kinds may be correctly called NARCISSUS. However, in common usage the large flowered kinds—Trumpets, Incomparabilis, Giant Leedsii and Doubles—are called DAFFODILS. The small flowered types—Barrii, Small Crowned Leedsii, Poetaz and Poeticus, are called NARCISSUS. The JONQUILS belong to a particular class having deep green, almost round, rush-like foliage, from which it gets its name, and with flowers that are small, clustered and deep buttercup yellow. Trumpet daffodils are mistakenly called Jonquils by many.

The flowers are formed by two principal parts. The outer petals are called the perianth. The central portion is called trumpet, cup, crown, or eye, according to its size. This central portion is the most variable part and its length and size, for the most part, determine the class into which the flower falls.

1. TRUMPET (Daffodils) in which the trumpets are as long or longer than the perianth petals. The three sub-sections, Yellow, White and Bi-color, are represented by the varieties King Alfred, Beersheba and Silvanite. See pages 4, 5 and 6.

2. INCOMPARABILIS (Daffodils). The length of the trumpet or cup is shorter than in the Trumpet class. It measures from one-third to nearly the length of the petals. The two sub-sections of Yellow and Bi-color are represented by Fortune and John Evelyn. See pages 7 and 8.

3. BARRII (Narcissus). The cup or crown measures less than one-third of the length of the petals. The sub-sections of Yellow and Bi-color are represented by Bath's Flame and Firetail. See page 10.

4. LEEDSII has two sub-sections.

GIANT LEEDSII (Daffodils) could be well classed as White Incomparabilis. The petals are white with the cup white, cream, or pale citron. Example, Solfatare. See page 7.

SMALL CROWNED LEEDSII (Narcissus) could be well classed as a White Barrii. The petals are white with the crown white, cream or pale citron. Example, St. Olaf. See page 10.

5. TRIANDRUS HYBRIDS (Narcissus) are represented by Moonshine and Thalia. See page 12.

6. CYCLAMINEUS HYBRIDS (Narcissus) are represented by February Gold. See page 12.

7. JONQUILS and JONQUIL HYBRIDS (Jonquils). Stems are smooth, round, deep green, and the leaves are almost round and rush-like. The flowers are deep buttercup yellow, sweet scented and bunch-flowered, i.e., several smaller flowers on one stem. Examples, Buttercup and Campernelle Rugulosus. See page 12.

8. POETAZ (Narcissus). Of the bunch-flowered type. The flowers have white or pale yellow petals and cups of pale citron, yellow or red. These are the hardy varieties of Tazetta. Examples, Elvira and Raphael. See page 11.

8. TAZETTA (Narcissus). Poetaz and Tazetta belong to the same class but we have separated them because most of the Tazetta varieties are tender and can be grown out-of-doors only in very mild climates. In the north they are used for forcing. Examples, Chinese Sacred Lily, Soleil d'Or and Paper White. See page 13.

9. POETICUS (Narcissus). The Poet's Narcissus. Single white flowers with eyes of red, yellow or red and green. Actaea and Cassandra are good examples. See page 11.

10. DOUBLES (Daffodils). All the varieties having double flowers fall in this class. Examples, Mary Copeland and Royal Sovereign. See page 9.

11. VARIOUS (Narcissus). Types that do not fit in any of the foregoing classes are placed here. They are mostly wild forms of Narcissus. Examples, Bulbocodium and Canaliculatus (Dainty Belle). See page 13.

KING ALFRED

King Alfred

Of all the Daffodils this grand monarch is the most popular and best known. It is THE commercial Daffodil of Today. More "Alfreds" are grown and sold than any other variety. It is the one you see most in florist shops and greenhouses.

Its rich, lustrous, golden yellow is the color we love to associate with Daffodils. The square shouldered perianth and deeply frilled trumpet though large are refined in appearance and beautifully proportioned. These lovely flowers holding themselves proudly erect top sturdy tall 24-inch stems and rise above its handsome blue-green foliage. Also they are long lasting both as cut flowers and in the garden. As a plant it is extremely vigorous. In short, King Alfred gives the greatest Daffodil satisfaction and without it no collection would be complete.

It is to the garden of today that which Emperor was in the past and what Fortune will be in the future. The parade passes on but TODAY KING ALFRED is supreme.

This lovely Daffodil is offered at these reasonable postpaid prices.

ROBERT SYDENHAM (YELLOW TRUMPET)

AEROLITE (YELLOW TRUMPET)

TRUMPET DAFFODILS

POSTPAID—Finest Selected No. 1 Bulbs

The most charming flowers of any spring garden are the Daffodils and Narcissus and every beautiful garden will have them planted freely. They thrive in practically any climate in the United States. Considering their beauty, their long life and the small amount of labor necessary to their culture, Daffodils are the most economical of all bulbs to plant.

Their graceful forms, beautifully shaped trumpets and cups and long straight stems have made them favorites for cut flower purposes with every American gardener.

You will find many novelties listed under their proper classification. These have been carefully selected, not alone for their beauty, but also for vigor of growth, and growing popularity, which is proof of their excellence. Most of them have received Awards of Merit at the English flower shows where blossoms are subjected to the keenest competition. Start a Daffodil collection by adding at least one of these fine new things each year.

BATH'S FLAME (BARRII)

DIANA KASNER (BARRII)

SMALL FLOWERED DAFFODILS

POSTPAID—Finest Selected No. 1 Bulbs

The large flowered Daffodils are very well for bold showy appearance in the garden, but when it comes to indoors and the closer and more intimate association, the small flowered varieties are by far to be preferred. They are more tasteful and charming for table decoration, and make up for their size in refinement and abundance of bloom. The small flowered Daffodils are more generally called Narcissus and Jonquils.

Barrii

Firetail (4) (Barrii) (See illustration). This is the finest red-eyed Barrii yet seen, and is a really great flower. Large spreading and overlapping ivory-white perianth of much substance and flat crinkled crown of richest blazing solid red which lasts exceptionally well. Very tall, 24 inches is common. Lady Moore (4) (Barrii) (See illustration). An excellent variety for the perennial border, in which a group is very lovely. It has a large overlapping creamy white perianth and a widely expanding frilled crown of deep yellow edged orange-red. Height 17 in. 15c each, 3 bulbs 40c, $1.50 doz.

Hot Springs, S. D.
Sept. 20, 1938.

Enclosed find my order for bulbs for forcing and outdoor planting. I had such wonderful success with the bulbs last year. We had bowls of beautiful Golden Spur daffodils two months during Jan. and Feb. Some of them bloomed for three weeks at a time, and King Alfreds that we planted outdoors were simply gorgeous. I think you will receive more orders from this locality this fall, as we had many people drive in to admire our daffodils and ask where we got the bulbs. Be sure to keep our name on your mailing list.

MRS. E. M. WELLS.

Polyanthus Narcissus

These are the varieties most extensively used for growing in pebbles or fibre and water to flower indoors throughout the winter. They produce clusters of fragrant flowers and are not recommended for outdoor planting except in mild climates.

The bulbs may be forced to bloom from Christmas until Easter. For earliest flowers plant the bulbs as soon as received and place the bowls in a dark cool place free from frost. When well rooted they may be taken into heat. The milder the temperature the finer the flowers. For a succession of bloom plant at intervals of two weeks, keeping unplanted bulbs in a dry place of living room temperature. The water requires changing occasionally and a little charcoal added to the water helps to keep it fresh. Early planted bulbs require longer to root. Planted after December, they root very quickly. Soleil d'Or will give the best results if not brought into heat until the buds start to rise.

Chinese Sacred Lily (Southern grown). Large clusters of white flowers with yellow cups. Heavily scented. Very easily grown in bowls. 3 bulbs 35c, $1.25 doz., $9.00 per 100.

Grow Bulbs Indoors

Once you have grown bulbs indoors in either pots or bulb bowls you will want them that way every winter. It is so easy to do and gives such great rewards of beauty and satisfaction. You can have them with very little trouble from January on. You may grow them in bulb fibre, soil, or water and pebbles. Full cultural directions for indoor growing together with bulb fibre free in which to plant them are sent with each order. Extra large bulbs are selected for this purpose.

Plant only one variety in a pot. They look better and will flower more evenly.

As a general guide the Polyanthus types of Narcissus may be flowered first, then the Single Early Tulips, the early Daffodils and Hyacinths followed by the late Daffodils and giant flowered Tulips. The closer the time of flowering bulbs indoors comes to their natural blossoming time outside the easier it is to bring them into flower. They flower quicker and easier in February and March than in January.

GIANT DARWIN

DILLENBURG

One of the finest places in the world to grow tulip bulbs is the Puget Sound country, where our bulb farm has a most favored location. The black sandy soil gives good water drainage and the relative elevation gives perfect air drainage, two essentials for commercial success with tulips. These coupled with favorable climatic conditions and careful culture enable us to send you the very highest quality of bulbs.

Only finest top size bulbs are used in filling orders.

Under Giant Darwin Tulips we have grouped together the very finest of the Giant Darwins together with the best of the Giant Breeders as well as the new Hybrid Tulips. They are of the same habit of growth, tall and sturdy with large cup-shaped flowers, and are May-flowering. These tulips are in greatest demand and are the pride and glory of the spring garden.

Plant in October or November, except in the South where later planting is desirable. On heavy soils plant 5 to 6 inches deep and 6 to 7 inches on lighter types. Use a liberal amount of bone meal and see to it your beds have good drainage.

Your special attention is called to the fine new tulips found in the list of Giant Darwins. The varieties Alberio, Cherbourg, Dillenburg, Eclipse, Elizabeth Evers, Johanna, Kathleen Parlow, King Mauve, Mr. Van Zijl, Princess Mary, The Bishop, Yellow Giant and Zwanenburg are the finest of the new tulips and present a splendid assortment of colors.

It is hardly necessary to point out those standard varieties that have long been favorites, Afterglow, Clara Butt, Dream, Farncombe Sanders, Prince of Orange, Princess Elizabeth and Rev. H. Ewbank.

Giant Flowered Tulip "Prof. Rauwenhoff" planted at the Tacoma Indian Hospital (U.S.I.S.)

This magnificent bed of red Giant Flowered Tulips shows what can be done when you use bulbs grown by the Gardenville Bulb Growers. 2500 bulbs of "Prof. Rauwenhoff" were planted in this 30-foot diameter bed. Planted the fall of 1935, the picture was taken the following May.

COTTAGE GARDEN TULIPS

Cottage Tulips lend an air of distinction and appeal to every garden in which their beauty is allowed to be displayed. They give a greater range of form and shape than can be found in the Giant Flowered tulips. The long pointed and sometimes reflexing petals appear more often than the cup-shaped, which gives them added attraction.

Do not confuse the Cottage with the short stemmed early tulips. Cottage Tulips are long-stemmed, large flowered, beautiful tulips suitable for cutting or growing in the border and flower at about the same time or a little later than the Giant Flowered Darwins and Breeders. By all means plant some this fall.

We recommend for your attention the newer varieties of Cottage Tulips, all of which have large, attractive flowers and strong, stiff stems. Their popularity is increasing: Advance, Albino, Carrara, Jeanne Desor, Marjorie Bowen, Mayflower, Mongolia, Refulgence, Rosabella, and World's Fair.

Of the standard varieties the following are much demanded: Dido, Gesneriana Lutea, Grenadier, Mrs. Moon and Orange King.

POSTPAID—Finest Top-sized Bulbs. The figure following the name indicates the relative time of flowering.

BARTIGON IN THE FOREGROUND BACKED BY A DOUBLE ROW OF ZWANENBURG

A FEAST OF TULIPS FOR CUTTING

50 Flowering Bulbs for $2.25 - Postpaid

This offer of 1st and 2nd size bulbs—just under the TOP size with which our regular Tulip orders taken from the preceding pages are filled—satisfies the demand for the largest number of bulbs at the lowest cost. It is an opportunity to purchase smaller bulbs in large quantities at lower prices, and is a real bargain.

Thousands of these smaller bulbs were sold last year. They gave great satisfaction not only to those who used them for cut flowers in the home, but for garden decoration as well.

These bulbs are just right to plant in the cutting bed for cut flowers. Many prefer to have a planting for this purpose. This leaves their choice ones to brighten the borders and prominent places of the garden.

Both 1st and 2nd sized bulbs will flower, the larger bulb giving the larger flower and stronger stem. They are well suited for cutting purposes. You will find our first sized bulbs equal to the largest size generally supplied by the usual catalog house, and our second size equal to the bulbs supplied from magazine advertisements.

In ordering please indicate a second choice, as we are limited in the number of bulbs for this offer.

The 1st sized bulbs average 4½ inches in circumference and the 2nd size average 4 inches in circumference.

Where climatic conditions are known to be difficult for growing Tulips, such as the Gulf Coast and Southern California, only top sized bulbs should be used and these replaced each year.

Clara Butt. A lovely delicate pink flushed salmon-rose. It is the most popular pink tulip and is planted in large quantities each year.

Inglescombe Yellow. Quite commonly called the yellow Darwin. The large globular flowers are glossy canary yellow.

Maiden's Blush. One of the most graceful and useful tulips for cutting. It is dainty, unusual and greatly admired. Opening primrose, it quickly passes to white with a slight color of rose along the edges. This deepens, flushing the entire petal as it ages.

Grenadier. A grand tulip with large flowers of dazzling orange-scarlet.

Ellen Willmott. The long pointed flower of elegant form is pale primrose and delicately fragrant. Combines nicely with Maiden's Blush.

Inglescombe Pink. A most lovely tulip of delicate rose-pink.

La Merveille. Large flowers with pointed petals, the outside of which is old rose. Open it shows an intense orange-scarlet. Very lovely in vases.

Bartigon. Cup-shaped, bright crimson flowers.

Baronne de la Tonnaye. Full rose shading to silvery rose at margin of petals.

Farncombe Sanders. Geranium-scarlet tinged rose.

Mixed Tulips. A very good mixture.

Dutch and Spanish Iris

These two bulbous Irises are very much alike in form and general habits as well as requirements. The Dutch are earlier and have flowers slightly larger. The Spanish are later and have taller and more slender stems. They are among the prettiest of all the spring flowers for cutting and garden decoration and are orchid-like in their beauty of form and color. They are easily grown and will do well in full sun or partial shade.

Plant 3 to 4 inches deep, measuring from the shoulder of the bulb, in any rich light soil that has good winter drainage. They make an early start, in mild climates producing leaves which are persistent during the winter. In colder parts provide a mulch. They flower from early May into June. If you have never grown bulbous Iris be sure to include some of these in your order.

The numbers in brackets indicate the relative time of flowering.

English Iris, Garden Orchids

Choice Mixed Colors, 6 bulbs 30c, 50c doz., $3.75 per 100, postpaid.

These magnificent bulbous Irises are larger in all their parts than the Dutch and Spanish. Larger flowers, broader of leaf, altogether more sturdy in appearance and very showy.

The leaves do not make their appearance until spring, and the large handsome flowers come during the latter part of June and early July, thus succeeding the Bearded, Dutch and Spanish. They are the latest of the bulbous Iris to bloom and as cut flowers take first place. The colors are more beautiful when cut just as the bud starts to unfurl and allowed to open in the dark in water.

English Iris thrive in any good garden soil but prefer a moist loam rich in humus. Give full sun, except in hot climates, where partial shade will be appreciated, with plenty of moisture during the spring months while growing. They are quite hardy and successfully grown in cold climates.

The earlier the planting after the beginning of September the better. Place the bulbs at least 3 inches deep, measuring from the shoulder of the bulb. English Iris bulbs do not require annual lifting, but may be left in the ground until the clump becomes crowded.

This Iris has been scarce, but we have developed the finest stock in the United States and are offering the mixed colors at attractive prices that they may be more generally grown.

SUNSET (See illustration) is one of the most charming of English Iris. It has the color of Cattleya Orchids—a delicate shade of rosy tinted lilac. Groups of 7 to 9 bulbs along the border are most attractive and add a delightful touch of color. Sunset is a clean, strong growing Iris reaching a height of 19 inches, and is offered at these most attractive prices:

HYACINTH LADY DERBY

Hyacinth Bulbs

The entrancing fragrance and bright cheerful colors of the Hyacinth coming so early in spring gives this bulb a foremost place in our garden planning. It produces flowers from very small bulbs. The size of the flower and the number of bells on a stem being proportional to the size of the bulbs.

For those who want large heavy flower spikes or trusses the largest bulbs are obtained, but the smaller ones produce far more graceful flowers indoors and more satisfactory beds outside. Only the single type is listed as we believe them to be more reliable and satisfactory than the doubles.

Outdoors, Hyacinths are planted from 6 to 10 inches apart and 4 to 6 inches deep, measuring from the shoulder of the bulb. The larger bulbs being planted the deepest and farthest apart. Planting should be done before November 1st, preferably in good sandy loam soil with the beds well mulched for winter in cold climates. Planted alternately with tulips, a color effect in the same bed is produced lasting over a month. For this purpose 6 inches from bulb to bulb is a suitable distance. White Hyacinths inter-planted with Muscari, either blue or white, is charming.

For pot culture use a 4-inch pot for one bulb or a larger pot for three or five bulbs, an odd number making the better appearance. As a rule it is not satisfactory to put more than one variety in a pot. In potting, leave the tops of the bulbs even with the top of the pot and a little above the soil in the pot. Give a good watering, set in a cool dark place and cover over and around the pots with several inches of sand. Leave until thoroughly rooted, which takes from 8 to 10 weeks, and until an inch or two of top growth has been made. During this time do not allow them to become dry. Bring to light gradually, and after the flower spike has developed, they may be placed where wanted.

HYACINTHS IN GLASSES

It is fun for all the family to grow Hyacinths in glasses. The special glasses sold for the purpose are well known. Put a small piece of charcoal about the size of a pea, into the glass and fill with water, nearly but not quite up to the base of the bulb. For this purpose the large size bulbs should be used. When filled stand the glass in a dark, cool, airy place, where it must be left several weeks for the roots to grow and the flower bud to start. Do not bring into light until the flower bud shows an inch or two of top growth and the glass is nearly full of roots. Bring to light gradually and after that to the sunniest place where there is full light and an even temperature, 60-65 degrees.

HYACINTHS IN BOWLS OF PEBBLES

A charming effect may be obtained by growing Hyacinths in bowls filled with pebbles and water. The treatment is the same as with Hyacinths in glasses. It is only necessary to see that a piece of charcoal is used and that the water is replenished as the bulbs use it up.

Bulb fibre mixture is also an excellent material for growing Hyacinths in bowls and is clean and inoffensive to handle.

Scilla Italica

This rare Scilla is seldom found in catalogs but we have been growing it for a number of years and are glad to make this lovely flower available. It is splendid for the rock garden or flower border. The flowers come in late May and are noted for the fullness and sweetness of their lilac-like fragrance.

The leaves are few in number and much shorter than the flower stem which rises to a height of 10 to 12 inches, carrying a large number of the daintiest little bells of pale blue. Plant 3 to 4 inches deep in any good well drained garden soil. Hardy. 60c doz., $4.00 per 100, $35.00 per 1000.

SCILLA CAMPANULATA, EXCELSIOR

MUSCARI, HEAVENLY BLUE

Muscari (Grape Hyacinths)

They look beautiful naturalized in the rock garden, while as edgings and massed in the flower border they produce a lovely effect and continue a long time in bloom.

Trillium

Trilliums are very attractive plants of the Lily family. They are among the choicest of all early spring plants and should be more common in gardens. Planted on the north side of the house or in any shady location, with ferns for a background or under taller growing shrubbery, they are ideal. They thrive in woods mold and delight in rich, deep, rather moist soil in partial shade. Plant them deep, 5 to 6 inches, and 8 to 10 inches apart. Leave them undisturbed for years and they will multiply into splendid clumps having many flowers.

Grandiflorum is a handsome species growing a foot or more high and having pure white flowers with wavy petals that change to rosy pink as they fade. This variety is later than Ovatum, starting to flower before that variety has faded.

Ovatum. The Pacific Coast representative of Grandiflorum. It is taller and more robust growing with larger flowers, and is the earliest to flower. Flowers open pure white, gradually tinge pink and finally become deep wine-purple. The change in color is an added charm.

Snow Queen is a strong growing plant, a foot or more high, with broad long leaves. The flowers are pure white with petals 3½ inches long. The flowers spring directly from the whorl of leaves and point upward.

POSTPAID—Finest Selected Bulbs

CHIONODOXA (Glory of the Snow)

The Chionodoxa is one of the loveliest spring flowers, and when established, its sheets of blue in very early spring are a great attraction. It blooms at the time of the Crocuses, producing dwarf flower spikes, bearing 12 to 15 flowers of a sky blue with a pure white heart, creating a lovely effect. It should be used in borders as edgings, also massed on rockwork or in the shrubbery. Chionodoxa may be placed in a sunny location or in half shade where they can remain undisturbed for years. They will seed themselves, forming natural colonies. Plant September to November, 3 to 4 inches deep, and for best effect about 18 bulbs to the square foot.

Luciliae. Flowers brilliant blue, with clear snow-white centers. Height 4 inches. 30c doz., $2.25 per 100, $20.00 per 1000.

LEUCOJUM—SNOWFLAKE (Leucojum Aestivum)

The stems 14 to 18 inches high are topped by 4 to 8 handsome, white, drooping, bell-like flowers having a small dot of green on the edge of each petal. The bulbs look like narcissus, require similar culture, and may be left undisturbed for years. Plant in September to November, 3 to 4 inches deep, measuring from the shoulder of the bulb. Prefers a partly shaded position in moist loamy soil well drained in winter. Lovely in fern borders or in groups in the shrubbery. 6 for 50c, 85c doz., $6.00 per 100.

ORNITHOGALUM

Nutans. Produces in April to May elegant spikes of beautiful silvery grey flowers, shaded outside pale sea green and covered with a silken sheen that gives them a most uncommon effect. The sturdy flower stalk grows about a foot high, strung with a dozen pendulant flaring bells of large size. The large three-cornered seed pods that follow the blossoms up the stem are attractive and ornate. They are valuable as cut flowers and arrange well with tulips. Wherever shown they have created much admiration and demand. Thrives in dense shade or open border, naturalizes well, hardy, easy to grow and increases rapidly. A valuable addition to the shaded border. Plant in the fall 3 to 4 inches deep. 50c doz., $3.00 per 100, $25.00 per 1000.

Hardy, easy to grow, and may be left undisturbed for years. Plant in the fall, 3 to 4 inches deep. 3 bulbs 30c, $1.00 doz., $7.50 per 100.

ERANTHUS

SNOWDROPS

ERANTHUS HYEMALIS (Winter Aconite)

Loved for their early flowers and beautiful foliage, coming along with Snowdrops, their boon companions, and with which they form a striking contrast. The golden blossoms look charming, resting on an emerald green cushion of leaves which has been compared to an Elizabethan Ruff. They flower two weeks before Crocus on stems about 3 inches above ground. After the flowers have withered the leaves make a charming ground cover which remains until seeds are formed. They seed themselves freely and colonies from self sown seed are soon formed.

Winter Aconites flourish under trees and in moist situations where few other plants will thrive, and are good in the rock garden. They require to become established before flowering freely and then should not be disturbed. Set new tubers about 3 inches deep and 4 inches apart, 16 bulbs per square foot. Plant early. 45c doz., $3.00 per 100, $28.00 per 1000.

SNOWDROPS (Galanthus)

In the early spring months there is nothing more beautiful than a sheet of the snowy graceful blossoms of the Snowdrop, with which everybody is familiar and loves. Practically the first flower to appear after the dreariness of winter, and is in flower before the frost is out of the ground. Can be grown under trees, shrubs and naturalized in woodlands. They require very little attention and can remain undisturbed for years. For best effect they should be planted rather thick, 2 inches apart each way. Plant from September to November in a permanent half shady position. They like rather moist and cool soil. On light soils 6 inches, on heavy soils 4 inches deep.

Single Snowdrop (Nivalis). 40c doz., $3.00 per 100, $23.00 per 1000.

Double Snowdrop (Nivalis Plenus). 50c doz., $3.50 per 100, $32.00 per 1000.

ANEMONE

With their bright and varied colors Anemones make a splendid showing during the spring and should be planted extensively. They are also excellent as cut flowers and make pleasing bouquets. In the South they may be planted during the fall and winter, but in the North spring planting is recommended. A well drained location with raised beds is preferred. Set the bulbs 5 to 6 inches apart and 2 to 3 inches deep with the pointed ends downward. In cold sections cover in winter with strawy manure.

ANEMONES DE CAEN

RANUNCULUS

Nothing produces a brighter or more gorgeous effect in May and June than beds of Ranunculus, while the flowers are much prized for cutting. They thrive in any ordinary garden soil but should have protection in spring from cold winds. In the South they may be planted from September to February, the earlier planting, however, will produce a more sturdy growth and a greater number of flowers over a longer blooming period. In the North they may be planted in April and May outdoors and will bloom in July and should be taken up for the winter and stored dry until following season.

Plant with the claws downward; set 3 to 4 inches apart, pressing them firmly into the soil; keep the crown 2 inches under the surface of the soil, covering them first with sand and then with soil.

Giant French Hybrids. Flowers are unsurpassed in range of brilliant and desirable colors and come a very large percent double. Extra large bulbs, 50c doz., $3.50 per 100, $30.00 per 1000. Large bulbs, 35c doz., $2.50 per 100, $20.00 per 1000.

LILIES add lasting beauty

L. REGALE

Since the introduction of Lilium Regale, lilies have become increasingly popular. Now everyone wants some of these stately, beautiful fragrant flowers in their garden. We have priced them moderately so you may have them, too. Remember, once established, they prefer to be left undisturbed.

The lilies offered are all hardy and of easy culture and will do well in almost every section of the United States. They are Gardenville grown and will be sent in time for planting this fall.

An ideal soil for lilies and for all bulbs which remain in the garden over winter, is one which is sufficiently porous to permit fast drainage of winter water but rich enough in humus to retain moisture for the plants during the summer. The soil should be deep and well tilled as lilies are planted deep and the roots feed deep. Heavy soils may be improved by liberal additions of sand and leafmold. Wherever possible avoid the use of manures in fertilizing lilies. A mulch of leafmold from deciduous trees will retain moisture and provide just the right plant food lilies need.

L. FORMOSANUM

SWEENEY, STRAUB & DIMM, HORTICULTURAL PRINTERS. PORTLAND, OREGON

Colchicums are charming and interesting plants, hardy, persistent and of easy culture.

These great crocus-like flowers carpet the ground in September and October without foliage and at a time when the herbaceous beds begin to lose their freshness.

To the casual eye they look like long tubed crocuses, but Colchicums are of the lily family and have six stamens while crocuses have but three.

They are most effective when grown in masses and with ground covers of low growing perennials such as Arabis, Sedums and Phlox Subulata.

They may be placed between taller growing plants in the rock garden, in flower borders and in the wild garden.

In very warm climates partial shade is preferable, otherwise they succeed best in an open sunny border.

The blossoms seem fragile but are quite tough and last exceedingly well when cut for the house. In the garden the individual flowers last about three days, depending on the weather, being able to stand light frosty mornings better than hot sunny days. Five to 16 blooms come in succession from single bulbs, giving a long flowering period.

In congenial surroundings Colchicums will increase so that every few years replanting is desirable. They should be lifted when the foliage dies down, separated and replanted.

Plant Colchicums as soon as the bulbs can be obtained and are received. Planted in August or September, the bulbs will bloom almost immediately, but are at their best when well established. Deep, well enriched, good loamy soil is preferred with tip of the long bulb placed 1 to 2 inches under the surface. If no ground cover is planted give a light mulch over winter. As the bulbs and foliage are distasteful to animals, mice, moles and rabbits do not bother them.

AUTUMNALE

FLOWERING WITHOUT SOIL OR WATER

A most interesting feat of Colchicums is their ability to flower from dry bulbs without soil or water. This makes them valuable novelty gifts for friends and most fascinating for shut-ins to watch develop.

The flat based, clean bulbs may be set on a table, on the window sill or in a container where they will start flowering. As the blooms fade and drop, cut them off and others will follow in quick succession.

In the dark the flowers and tubes come an attractive pure white. On the window sill with plenty of light they have their normal color—less color appearing the farther the bulbs are from the light. The skins of the bulbs are dry and tough which often must be broken to allow the buds to appear.

After flowering in the house the spent bulbs may be planted in the garden. Follow the directions for outside planting. Often they will recover after a year of rest and start flowering out-of-doors.

For late orders we hold stock of bulbs in cool storage.
